Housecleaning Being Planned By Brownell

Justice Department Slated For Giant Sweep, Aide Says

ABOARD USS HELENA (AP)—An authoritative source disclosed today that Atty. Gen. designate Herbert Brownell has completed plans for a giant housecleaning in the Department of Justice.

Brownell, the informant said, plans to fire anyone whose name has been even remotely linked with government scandal.

Brownell's first move after taking office Jan. 20, the source said, will be to sweep out of office virtually all those in the policy-making level of the department. The cleanup also will affect attorneys in Washington, U. S. district attorneys and U. S. marshals.

These job categories long have been considered political patronage posts. A western Republican senator recently told a nationwide television audience that "every man in my state who can pack a pistol appears to be out after a job as U. S. Marshal."

"IF HE FINDS a good career man who has been doing a good job, Brownell will keep him whether he's a Democrat or a Republican," one informant declared, however.

Brownell was one of President-elect Dwight Eisenhower's top political advisers in the presidential campaign. It is understood he will give top priority to investigating cases dealing with communism and subversion.

Next on the list will be a wholesale review of tax fraud cases in which no action has been taken.

He also will dig into pending antitrust cases.

Brownell has told friends he intends to prosecute wherever there is any evidence of fraud.

He is said to feel that the office of attorney general has been permitted to sink in prestige and he (Please turn to page 24)

What is the future of Fayette County's water supply?

Or, it might be more appropriate to ask what is the future of the water supply for Washington C. H.?

With dozens of farm wells dry, streams not flowing for many weeks and the city's water supply extremely doubtful during droughts, citizens may well ask the above questions.

Water is the "life blood of mankind," not only for growing crops but for sustaining human and all other kinds of life.

With no reservoir for holding a surface supply of water during drought periods, the water problem becomes more and more acute with each succeeding drought. Wells which never before went dry are added to the list of those ceasing to furnish water during droughts now.

After years of study of the water situation here, through observations, contact with those who know about the state's water supply, and first hand knowledge from well drillers, I am frank to say I keep my fingers crossed during every drought. I know some others who do the same.

I know the reachable underground water supply is not inexhaustible and that an unusually long drought draws heavily upon the underground storage deep down even in the thick Niagara limestone which underlies this whole area.

I will be much interested in the survey of competent engineers regarding the available and potential water supply for the city.

I frankly believe that the real solution of the water supply for Washington C. H. lies in construction of a dam or dams to impound surplus water when water is abundant, and keep it for use during periods of drought, or to augment the city's well supply at other times.

It's going to be a costly project, but sooner or later, I predict, such a step will be necessary to ensure an abundance of water at all times for the city.

Eventually it may be necessary to build a series of dams in Fayette County to ensure abundance of water for farms, but that time may be 100 years hence.

THE FRONT WHEELS of a giant trailer truck rest atop the almost unrecognizable mass of rubber and metal that a few moments before had been a jeep pulling out of a side road near Ruffsdale, Pa. The clenched hand (arrow) of the driver of the jeep, Hillyer Elliott, who was killed instantly, rises grotesquely from the wreckage. (International)

New Volunteer Service Planned by Red Cross For Fayette County

The immediate need for a volunteer service chairman was discussed by the directors of the Fayette County Red Cross chapter at a meeting Wednesday in Chamber of Commerce offices.

Don E. Wood, chairman, outlined the job that must be filled and said that it may be necessary to set it up as a co-chairman position due to the size and importance of the work.

The volunteer service will be made up of at least one person in each township and several in each town. They will assist in the contacts between servicemen and their families, arranging emergency transportation, emergency communication in disasters and generally serving as the nerve system of the Red Cross operations here.

Wood said that since a great deal of this work will be of a personal nature, the persons in this group must have an engaging and tactful personality.

Selection of chairman and other workers will be made after a thorough check of all persons volunteering for this work, or suggested by present workers.

TOM MARK, blood program chairman, announced the appointment of Mrs. Edwin Ducey, 110 East Circle Avenue, as the head of staff aides. Mrs. Ducey is replacing Mrs. Earl McVey, who recently moved to California.

The next visit of the bloodmobile here will be Jan. 15. It is to be sponsored by the Business and Professional Women. The chairman will be Miss Christine Evans, administrator of Memorial Hospital, Mark said.

A report of chapter activities was made by Mrs. Violet Cahall. It showed that during November, action had been taken in 20 cases for

Farm Bureau Now Charting Its Policy Course For 1953

SEATTLE (AP)—Delegates to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention get down today to the No. 1 business of their 34th annual session—charting the organization's 1953 policy course.

Members of the resolutions committee reported their recommendations to the voting delegates will emphasize more strongly than ever the advisability of a policy of expanding world trade.

A brief in the necessity of foreign trade as a two-way street, by which farm products can be moved to foreign markets, has been emphasized repeatedly since the convention opened Monday. It has been expounded in speeches and by the federation president, Allan B. Kline.

Other points listed for emphasis by the resolutions committee include a need for decentralization of government, research in agriculture and control of inflation.

A COMMITTEE member said the resolutions prepared for action at the final afternoon session follow generally the principles set forth in previous annual platforms; "the change is on emphasis."

To date in December ten servicemen and five civilian cases have been handled and $20 in emergency servicemen loans made.

The directors and division chairmen in attendance were Mrs. Fred Rost, Mrs. Violet Cahall, Mrs. Mildred Rogers, Mrs. Sam Parrett, Mrs. Jean Nisley, Mrs. Willard Perrell, Wood, Mark, Mrs. Fred Rost, W. W. Montgomery, Ronald Cornwell, B. M. Marlin, Rev. Clinton W. Swengel, and Dr. John Richards.

Brakeman Killed In Dayton Wreck

DAYTON (AP)—A string of 27 New York Central freight cars jumped the track and smashed into a switch engine at the south edge of Dayton today killing a 75-year-old brakeman and burning a flagman.

The dead man was identified by the Montgomery County sheriff as Davey Lyman of Dayton. The flagman was identified as Robert A. Miller, 28, also of Dayton. He was treated in a hospital where attendants said his injuries were not serious. The 40-car freight train split and burst into flames after one car jumped the tracks and dragged 26 others with it. The derailed cars then smashed into the switch engine on an adjoining track.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 127,658 Wednesday, an increase of 275 since last week.

Little Business Of Importance Done by Council

Complaints Heard And Some Minor Ordinances Passed

Little business of importance was transacted by city council at the regular meeting Wednesday night and, following a plan that was adopted some time ago, the session adjourned and an executive session was held immediately afterward.

Council, upon recommendation of City Manager James F. Parkinson and Police Chief Vaiden Long, authorized a street light at Lewis and Brown streets.

Request of Leo Cox for permission to hold a "street festival" on South Main Street in May, under the auspices of the Disabled War Veterans post here, was referred to the city manager.

It was stated by Lee Beck, manager of the carnival company who was introduced by Cox, that the street would be kept clean and part of the outfit would be pitched on the Baker lot, so the street would be open to traffic. The same company showed here last year.

Ike Runnels, who has been a frequent visitor before council regarding the Coil stock truck parking lot and cattle running at large in a residential zone, told council that the cattle had been allowed to run in the area for several days after the last meeting, and that a load of manure had been parked on the Coil lot for two days and noise of the trucks kept him awake at night.

CITY MANAGER Parkinson reported that he had contacted Charles S. Hire, executor of the Jensen estate, about the cattle, and was assured that specific orders had been issued to the man in charge of the cattle to keep them penned up.

President William Clarke said the complaint about the parking lot would be taken up in executive session.

The city manager, told of learning that a trench at the city dump had cost $710, and to offset this he had placed a $7 advertisement in the Record-Herald and sold $474 worth of dirt.

An ordinance was passed requiring motor vehicles to stop and wait while school buses are loading or unloading children within the city limits.

Judge Says Paper Can Refuse Letter

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Ruling a newspaper has the right to refuse to publish any item, District Judge Elmer Adams Wednesday dismissed an Oklahoma County judge's $10,000 suit against the Tulsa Daily World because it did not print his letter to the editor.

But the plaintiff, Judge Baker Wall of Sallisaw, declared he would appeal to Oklahoma's Supreme Court and "fight for this principle to the highest court."

He had claimed "deep humiliation" because the World did not carry prior to last Oct. 23 a letter he had addressed to its "Voice of a Free People" Column, supporting Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president, and defending President Truman's policies.

Wall explained he was "hurt" by the omission of his letter because he had told friends and neighbors to look for it in the paper.

The World, which backed the Republican national ticket during the campaign, printed Wall's letter on that date in its story about the judge's suit. It explained it did not purposely fail to print Wall's letter, that it had received many and had to make selections.

Wandering Puppies Back Home

Remember the two homeless puppies, whose picture made page one of the Record-Herald last Saturday?

Well, really they never were homeless; they were just two cute and cuddly to ever reach that unhappy state. Rather, they were a couple of little wanderers, who stopped off for a bite to eat at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Schwart on the Bloomingburg-New Holland Road and stayed.

12 U. S. 'Bad Risk' Employees Still On United Nations Staff

NEW YORK (AP)—A State Department official says 12 out of 40 Americans termed bad security risks by the department still are holding down their jobs in the United Nations.

The official, John D. Hickerson, assistant secretary of state for UN affairs, testified Wednesday before the U. S. Senate internal security subcommittee probing allegedly subversive Americans working for the world organization.

Two more out of the 40 (making a total of 14) were blackballed by the department "on a basis of morals," Hickerson said.

Hickerson's oral and written testimony was heard by Sens. Herbert O'Connor (D-Md) and Homer Ferguson (R-Mich).

Of the 28 American UN employees dropped after his department questioned their loyalty, Hickerson said, 14 were fired before Oct. 1, and 14 more since then as a result of the State Department reports or Senate and grand jury probes. Up

Firm Labels Bender Charge As Ridiculous

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Ridiculous and absurd" is the reply given by the head of Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory to reports received in Rep. George Bender's office about inefficiency and loafing at the laboratory.

Dr. Edward R. Sharp, director of the laboratory, made that report when he was told there have been complaints 600 unneeded employees were discharged shortly after the election of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The director also declared construction of the new supersonic wind tunnel at the laboratory was not behind schedule. Bender said his office had received reports that it was.

Congressman Bender said two civil service employees of the huge aeronautical laboratory came to his office Wednesday and complained of "loafing" and lack of assignments. The Ohio Republican said various reports of inefficiency had been coming to his office for a month.

Bender expects to head a congressional subcommittee which would look into these reports.

Convicted Thug Seeks Appeal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Slick-haired Julius Petro, protesting his "innocence," sat in jail today waiting to see whether his lawyer will appeal his conviction on a $71,000 Warren holdup.

Attorney Frank Stanton indicated he might appeal, claiming errors in the trial. But if the verdict stands, Petro must spend 25 years in a federal prison. He is now 30, Petro's pal, Joseph Sanzo, 22, was in jail, too. He must wait several days before hearing his sentence. It also could be the maximum 25 years. It took a jury just 90 minutes Wednesday to decide that Petro and Sanzo held up Charles J. Foley, 36, branch manager of the Union Savings & Trust Co., Warren, Aug. 14.

New Supersonic Bomber Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has asked aircraft manufacturers to work up detailed plans for new supersonic bombers.

Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. of San Diego, Calif., was identified by yesterday's Air Force announcement as one of the firms figuring in the program. No others were named.

Now they are back where they started—at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Merritt, who live about a mile down the road from the Schwarts.

The Merritts said they had been searching the nearby countryside for the puppies, but had no idea they would roam so far away. It was not until a neighbor, who also had been keeping an eye out for them, saw their picture in the Record-Herald that the Merritts got on their trail.

Red Chinese Break Through Allied Artillery

Communists Capture Little Nori Hill From Rok Defenders

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Communists stabbed through withering Allied artillery fire today to hurl South Korean defenders from Little Nori Hill on the western front for the second time in 17 hours.

Frontline officers said the Reds hurled 3,000 men into the attacks their biggest in a month.

South Korean troops withdrew at dusk in the face of a two-company (300 to 350 men) Communist attack. The Chinese advanced through a 1,000-round artillery barrage from their own guns.

Some 200 Allied warplanes hurled heavy blows at Red positions on the western front.

For the first time in five days, no Russian-built Mig jet planes came out to fight.

Reports from the front said the Communists wrested the south slope of nearby Big Nori Hill from the South Koreans, who were making no effort to regain that ground.

AN ESTIMATED 8,000 rounds of Communist artillery and mortar fire pounded the South Koreans since the Red attacks jumped off. Front-line reports said Allied and Chinese big guns were engaged in a duel Thursday afternoon.

Both Big and Little Nori are located along the Imjin River in the freezing Kelly Hill area, where gnarled knobs rise irregularly to form stepping stones in the bloody Battle of the Hills.

Allied tanks spewed withering fire in support of the ROKs.

The Red attack on the smaller slope apparently spilled over to Big Nori in the confused, close-range fighting that raged before dawn.

In the air above the western front, planes of the U. S. Air Force, Marines, South Korean and Royal Australian Air Forces hammered Red artillery and bunkers.

Okinawa-based U. S. B29s dumped 120 tons of bombs on four Chinese targets near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. Bar racks and a steel mill were the principal targets.

Supreme Court Hears More Testimony On Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern reaction to a possible U. S. Supreme Court order ending racial segregation in public schools has become a major point in the dispute on the constitutionality of separate schools for white and Negro students.

The Supreme Court, due to wind up three days of arguments today, heard conflicting views Wednesday in cases involving separate school systems in South Carolina and Virginia.

Still to be argued today were cases involving Delaware and the District of Columbia.

The high court ruling, which may come next spring, will affect not only the five areas whose cases are being argued, but 17 states in all which require completely or partly separate school systems for white and Negro children, and four more where segregation is permitted.

J. Lindsay Almond, Virginia's attorney general, told the court Wednesday he believed a decision outlawing separate schools for the two races would "destroy the public school system in Virginia as we know it today."

EARLIER, John W. Davis, arguing for South Carolina's separate school system, said abolition of segregation in that state "is something that we cannot contemplate with entire equanimity."

Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), said he did not believe the people of South Carolina are "lawless."

"I believe," the Negro attorney told the court, "the rank and file of the people in the South will observe whatever decision is handed down."

The white-haired, 79-year-old Davis, who was Democratic nominee for president in 1924, argued there is no reason for the court to overturn an 1896 decision, known as the "separate but equal" doctrine.

But Marshall and attorneys on the opposing side insisted with equal vigor that the Constitution does not permit states to impose segregation in public schools. They rely chiefly on the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment, and contend there can be no equality as long as there is segregation.

not responsible for UN personnel, he said, beyond checking their loyalty, and the actual firing was solely up to the UN.

Hickerson also told the subcommittee members: "The State Department has not had evidence justifying the conclusion that espionage activities are being conducted by Americans employed in the UN."

He added that he believed the Secretariat would be "one of the last places" where Soviet agents would be placed since that agency dealt in "generally public and unclassified data."

To this, Ferguson replied, "There's more to it than getting information—there's acting as a Soviet agent."

Asked if other nations brought pressure on the UN in behalf of Americans listed as bad risks by the State Department, Hickerson said: "As far as I know, that is not the case."

Attempts to "follow up" adverse criticism by his department, Hickerson said, might be construed as "instructions" to UN officials and would be a violation of a section of the UN Charter.

Lodge Calling For End To Discrimination

DENVER (AP)—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. believes America must end discrimination and human indignities at home before it can lead the world to lasting peace.

Lodge, one of the architects of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's still-forming foreign policy, Wednesday night asked leaders of 30 Protestant churches meeting here to work for "a durable peace based on justice" in this way:

"Work for an America that is strong militarily, economically and politically; support the United Nations; work to make it stronger; advance tolerance and human rights; encourage private American activity abroad and hold out to all of suffering humanity the hope of liberty.

"Our discriminations are not only in conflict with Christian ideals, they are a real danger to the success of our foreign policy."

The United States cannot defeat the idea of Communism with dollars or bullets, Lodge said. It must do it by putting into practice the American ideal of equality and justice for all, he said.

Lodge, a Massachusetts Republican, has been designated by Eisenhower as ambassador to the UN. He said the UN "has not lived up to all that was hoped for it." He added the U. S. can and must work to make the UN better, saying: "Without world order, our ultimate destruction is only a matter of time."

Trip To Korea Is Labeled As 'Demagoguery'

MacArthur Challenged To Tell Any Ideas For Ending War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today rejected suggestions to hold a White House conference with Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur—and he blasted both of them.

Truman called President-elect Eisenhower's campaign announcement that he would go to Korea a piece of demagoguery.

And he told his news conference that MacArthur should have reported to him after he returned from Japan following MacArthur's ouster last year. Truman said that is what any decent man would have done.

Truman spoke up in response to questions arising from MacArthur's speech to the National Association of Manufacturers in New York last Friday that "there is a clear and definite solution" to the Korean conflict.

EISENHOWER said during his campaign that he would go to Korea in his efforts to bring about a speedy and honorable end to the Korean war.

Earlier this week, Eisenhower messaged MacArthur that he would be happy to meet with him to discuss any plans the former Far Eastern commander might have for ending the Korean war.

Eisenhower sent his telegram to MacArthur from the USS Cruiser Helena on which he is returning from the Korean trip he undertook to carry out his campaign pledge.

Truman then challenged MacArthur to tell him any ideas he may have for ending the war. He said it was MacArthur's duty.

And some congressmen suggested Truman meet with both president-elect and MacArthur to try to achieve a program for peace.

Truman came to his news conference today obviously ready to do battle with the two generals. To dramatize the conference, he permitted still photographers and television and newsreel cameramen to make pictures before the actual questioning started.

The TV films were made for later showing. There was no live telecast of the news conference.

TRUMAN SAID he travelled more than 14,000 miles to see MacArthur at Wake Island but all he got was misinformation.

Asked what this misinformation was, Truman said MacArthur told him at their historic meeting at Wake Island, Oct. 14, 1950, that:

1. The Chinese would not move into Korea.

2. It would be possible to send a division of the regular U. S. Army from Korea to Germany for occupation purposes to relieve (Please turn to page 24)

GOP's Payroll Trim Plan May Hurt GOP Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican-fathered device to trim the number of federal payrollers when most of them were Democrats may haunt the GOP when it takes over the reins of government.

It may have the effect of forestalling plans any Republicans might have to replace Democratic jobholders after President-elect Eisenhower's inauguration.

Known as the "Jensen rider," it has been tacked on to most departmental money bills in the last two years. By current law, it is operative in most departments at least until next June 30.

In effect it says the federal payroll shall be cut about 10 per cent each year by forbidding the filling of more than one out of every four vacancies that occur. There are some exceptions.

Its author, Rep. Ben Jensen (R-Ia), said he realizes the plan might pose some difficulties for the incoming Republican administration. But Jensen said that if the plan was equitable and fair when Democrats were running the show, it ought to be equitable and fair for the Republicans.

"It isn't a political program at all," he said. "Most of the jobs affected are civil service jobs anyhow, so they aren't political in nature."

FFA Pest Hunt Here Discussed

Chapter Has Plans For Recreation

Although members of the Washington C. H. Future Farmers of America chapter admit they have the feeling that they are trailing the pest hunt contest they are having with the Jeffersonville High School FFA Chapter, they generated determination to press their hunt with more vigor when they discussed it at their meeting Wednesday night.

Truman Arnold, Jr., the public relations representative of the club, said with a laugh that I'm afraid they (the Jeffersonville club) is ahead of us now, but there was no hint of resignation in his voice.

The hunt is to continue for about three weeks more and when it is over, the winners are to be dinner guests of the losers. The hunt started Nov. 15, with rats, foxes, crows, pigeons and the like in the quarry. The winner is to be decided on a point system. Details for the dinner will not be worked out until the winner is determined.

The WHS chapter also has a contest going within its own ranks. The member who gets the most points is to get a prize, which will be selected later.

WHILE THE PEST hunt is claiming much of the FFA interest here, a sale of a farm magazine is being conducted by the chapter. It was said that if 200 subscriptions are sold before Christmas, the chapter will get $500 in commissions and that, if the peak is not reached, it gets $75 for every 50 subscriptions. A report at Wednesday night's meeting said 75 subscriptions already had been sold.

Following the theory that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," the chapter is going in for a bit of fun and recreation. The chapter voted to buy two ping pong tables and set them up in the vocational agriculture department shop and organize a basketball team.

The FFA cagers, undaunted by the full program for the WHS gymnasium, held their first practice Monday, but they had to wait until 9 o'clock to get on the floor.

First on the after-school schedule for the gym was the Varsity squad, then the Reserves and the Juniors.

Games with other FFA cage teams are planned by the WHS chapter. Dewey Huffman, the voting teacher and FFA advisor, also is doubling as the coach.

There are 32 boys in the chapter, most of them live on farms outside of Washington C. H.

Christian Church Choir To Present Cantata Dec. 21

With three months of work on the music and rehearsals on the dramatization behind it, the choir of the First Christian Church today had its Christmas cantata about ready for presentation the evening of Dec. 21.

Selected for presentation this year, was the cantata "Song on the Holy Night." It is based on the familiar Christmas carol, "Silent Night, Holy Night."

Mrs. Coyt Stookey is the choir director and Miss Margaret Gibson is the organist.

The soloists are to be announced later.

The cantata is to be given in the church at 7:30 P. M. and invitations are now being extended to the public.

Preparations for the cantata was started the latter part of September with practices held regularly in the church every Thursday evening.

In the choir are 15 women and 9 men.

January Draft Quota Is 1,505

COLUMBUS, O. — State selective service headquarters today announced an Ohio draft quota of 1,505 men for January.

Col. Chester W. Goble, selective service director for the state, said the drop of more than 3,000 from last January's total represents a diminishing supply of 20-year-olds for the induction pool. The January quotas, by counties, include: Clinton 6, Fayette 4, Hocking 8, Pickaway 3, Van Wert 6.

The matter of a "token charge" of $10 for inhalator runs made outside of the city was taken up. Indications were that an ordinance will be submitted soon, providing for such charge. Heretofore the runs have been made gratis and at risk to firemen handling the equipment, it was pointed out.

Solicitor Junk ruled that an ordinance could be passed making use of inhalator part of the work of the firemen and they would be covered by insurance in case of accident.

Total collections in municipal court for November were $3,205.04, the court report read by the clerk of council, Miss Marie Melvin, showed.

Disbursements of the funds were made as follows:

County treasurer $968.50; state treasury $551.25; to city for half of highway patrol fines $551.25; to city for fines, costs and traffic tickets $1,112.80; to sheriff $21.24.

Burglary Attempt Here Is Foiled

Apparently a burglar, who forced entrance to the Yeoman Radio Store on South Main Street late Wednesday night, was frightened away before he had time to steal anything.

Police checked the store at 2:40 A. M. and found it all right. In a subsequent check at 4:48 A. M. they found the rear door had been forced.

Nothing was missing, but the telephone receiver had been lifted from the hook and not replaced.

Yanks In Korea Really Did Get Turkey Dinner

If you are wondering if the servicemen over in Korea had turkey for their Thanksgiving dinner you can stop worrying now because they had more than most people expected.

In a letter received by Mrs. Ray E. Tanner, 721 Eastern Avenue, from her husband, Sgt. L. E. Ray Tanner, a menu of the meal the soldiers had was included.

Sgt. Tanner is with the 7th Infantry Division stationed 35 miles north of Seoul in Korea which is pretty close to where the fighting is going on.

Sgt. Tanner in his letter said it took the cooks all night and up until noon on Thanksgiving Day to prepare the meal for the 195 men in the outfit. It consisted of the traditional roast turkey and pumpkin pie.

Also on the menu was shrimp cocktail, crackers, stuffed celery sticks, olives, pickles, poultry dressing, gravy, cranberry sauce, potatoes, buttered peas, cold slaw hot rolls, fruit cake, apples, tangerines, oranges, assorted candy, mixed nuts, coffee and milk.

Cecilians Yule Meeting Held at Kirk Home Featured Carol Singing

The spacious home of Mrs. McKinley Kirk was the setting on Wednesday evening for the Christmas meeting of the Cecilians.

The home was gay and festive with miniature Christmas trees ablaze with vari-colored lights and the traditional ornaments.

The president, Mrs. Otis B. Core, presided over the business session and announced that the annual business meeting for all active members would be held January 7 at her home on Lincoln Drive, when election of officers will be held and the selection of new active members. Plans will also be laid for a program to commemorate Ohio's Sesquicentennial, and Mrs.

Core urged all voting members to attend this meeting.

The program for the evening was in charge of Mrs. Paul S. Craig, who acted as narrator during the candlelight presentation of traditional Christmas hymn carols.

The program opened in a most impressive manner when members of the vocal quartet, Mrs. Robert Green, Mrs. J. Rankin Paul, Mrs. Thomas Bush and Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, appeared carrying lighted candles which were placed on the piano after those on the mantel had been lighted.

Mrs. Core played softly on the violin, "Silent Night," as background music, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. L. Musser for the reading of the Christmas Story found in St. Luke by Mrs. Paul S. Craig.

The members joined in the singing of three carols, "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "The First Noel" and "Joy To The World," led by the vocal quartet and accompanied by Mrs. Musser at the piano.

Mrs. Craig then prefaced the singing of "Cantique de Noel," by Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, in which she pointed out the meaning of Christmas, sacred observance of this most important day and of carols which have been dedicated traditionally to this day.

Mrs. Craig again spoke of Christmas Eve and Christmas, which have been the inspiration for three carols, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Silent Night" and "I Heard The Bells on Christmas Day." Phillip Brooks, an Episcopal minister, composed the first of the three, which was written for his Sunday School children and was sung by the quartet with Mrs. Musser accompanying. Mrs. Craig, in speaking of the last of the three carols and of its author, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, told of the beauty of the number, which was also sung by the quartet.

"Adeste Fideles" was next spoken of by Mrs. Craig and was also sung by the quartet and the members joined in the last verse.

The singing of "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear," by the quartet with Miss Jo Davis playing the flute obligato, was followed with the singing of "Silent Night" by the group to close a most beautiful and impressive program, and later the members joined in the singing of request numbers of Christmas carols.

Later a beautifully appointed tea table was presided over by Mrs. Otis B. Core, where delicious refreshments were served and the central decoration was a clever revolving Christmas tree with decorations and lights.

Hostesses for the party assisting Mrs. Kirk were Mrs. Edward Cobb, Mrs. Omar Schwartz, Jr. and Mrs. Paul Pierratt.

Auxiliary Holds Christmas Party

The December meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Wednesday evening and was highlighted with a Christmas party and gift exchange.

Mrs. Paul Mohr, president, opened the meeting in ritualistic form and the adoption of a six-bed unit at Dayton Veteran's Hospital was taken up as annual project, and contributions will be sent at Christmas.

A Christmas box was also packed to be sent to boys and girls of twelve years of age at the OSSO Home in Xenia.

A contribution of $100 was made for the annual Christmas party on December 23 in connection with the American Legion for needy children, and Mrs. Howard Mace was appointed as chairman for participation in the Veteran's birthday party December 18 at the Chillicothe Veteran's hospital.

Canned food was brought to the meeting to make up baskets for needy families at Christmas and Mrs. Mohr closed the meeting with a Christmas poem.

A most pleasant period was spent in the exchange of gifts around a Christmas tree and refreshments were served from a tea table decorated with Christmas suggestions and candy cane favors were presented each member by Mrs. Mohr.

The committee for the serving was Mrs. Otis Hess and Mrs. Eddie Jones, co-chairman, and their assistants.

GOP 'Honeymoon' Given 6 Months

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) said today he expects the Republican "honeymoon" to last about six months or possibly through the first session of the next Congress.

By that time, he told a reporter, the supporters of Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) in Congress probably will refuse to go along with some of President-elect Eisenhower's proposals.

"For a time — while patronage plums are being dangled in front of them — the Republicans in Congress probably will support Eisenhower," Boggs said. "But my guess is that the honeymoon will be over by the end of the first session."

Christmas Party Is Enjoyed By WSCS Members

A luncheon at the home of Mrs. Herbert Burton on Wednesday, highlighted the Christmas party of the Buena Vista WSCS with twelve members present.

Mrs. Manford Hamilton read, "The First Christmas," and the praying of the Lord's Prayer closed this period.

Miss Margaret Haines, president, conducted the business session and following the usual reports it was decided to send gifts and Christmas baskets to needy families in the community.

The monthly report consisted of twenty-three cards, fifteen calls and three gifts.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. John Corzatt and the program, in charge of Mrs. Manford Hamilton, included a reading, "The Way You Feel Inside," by Mrs. Russell Haines, "Christmas Riddle" by Mrs. William Rockhold, an article, "Let's Keep Christmas," by Mrs. Hamilton and a Christmas song contest which was won by Mrs. Clarence Smith.

Gifts were exchanged around a beautifully lighted tree and carols were sung by the group.

Guests included were Mrs. Howard Williams and Mrs. Carl Haines.

Mrs. Seaman Is Hostess To Class Members

Mrs. Bess Seaman was hostess to the members of the Home Builders Class of Madison Mills Church Wednesday evening for the Christmas meeting.

Mrs. Walter Butcher, president, called the meeting to order and the opening song was the Christmas carol "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

W. Melvin "The True Light" read by Mrs. Dwight King, "Christmas Is More Than a Mood" by Mr. Schlichter, "After Christmas, What?" by Mr. Howard Hopkins, "A Smile" by Mr. Schlichter and prayer by Rev. Lester Taylor.

The carol "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" was followed with the introducing of county agent W. W. Montgomery who talked on CROP Election of officers was held and Mr. Lester Haines was chosen as president, vice president, Mrs. Leonard Dorn, and Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Schlichter.

A social hour followed and the twenty-nine members enjoyed informal visiting.

Later the hostess served a salad and dessert course assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dawson.

BPO Does Elect Officers At Yule Party

The BPO Does Christmas party was preceded by a sumptuous covered dish dinner in the lodge room and the meal was served buffet from one long lace covered table decorated with red tapers.

Small tables seated the group for a most congenial dinner hour and each was centered with Christmas suggestions.

Later the business session as presided over by the president, Mrs. Charles Fuels and following the usual reports a Memorial service was held for deceased members.

Election of officers was held and resulted in Mrs. Fuels being chosen again as president; First Counselor, Mrs. Charles Funk; Senior Counselor, Mrs. Heber Rowe; Junior Counselor, Mrs. Darrell Williams; Secretary, Mrs. Ned Kinzer, Jr.; Treasurer, Mrs. Robert Ferguson; Inner Guard, Mrs. Max Roe; Outer Guard, Mrs. William Anderson and Trustees, Mrs. C. S. Kelley, Mrs. W. E. Klever and Mrs. Carl Smith.

Christmas gifts were exchanged around a miniature tree and a social hour followed.

The committee for the party was composed of Mrs. C. S. Kelley, Mrs. W. E. Klever, Mrs. Delbert Carr, Mrs. Howard Thompson and Mrs. Max Roe.

Circle Members Regular Meeting And Yule Party

The December meeting of WSCS Circle 11 of Grace Methodist Church was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Gibeau, near Bloomington, and was highlighted with a Christmas party and gift exchange.

The leader, Mrs. Everett White, conducted the short business session, which opened with devotions led by Miss Katie Bower, followed with the usual reports and a report on the sale of cards by Mrs. Harold Moats.

The program, in charge of Mrs. White, included the Bible study period on the New Testament, and the reading of "The Littlest Angel."

The group sang Christmas carols and an enjoyable hour was spent around a decorated Christmas tree where gifts were exchanged.

Refreshments carrying out Christmas suggestions were served by the hostess, assisted by Mr. Charles Mallow.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Jean Everhart on Wednesday, January 14.

Class President Is Hostess At Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party of Loyal Daughters Class of First Christian Church was held at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Vance, with twenty-nine members present.

It was decided to give a Christmas basket to a needy family and the project which was adopted two months ago, a tidy sum was netted for a contribution to the Indian Christian School in Sedona, Arizona.

The meeting closed with the benediction and the exchange of gifts was held around a decorated Christmas tree.

A contest was arranged by Mrs. Otis Allen and Mrs. Georgia Waddell and the award went to Mrs. Harvey Graves.

Members of the Future Homemakers club (FHA) today were about ready to start decorating Washington C. H. High School for the Christmas season. Plans for the decorations were made at the club's last meeting at the close of the afternoon school session. The decorations were looked over then, too, and checked for possible damage.

A committee of Linda Perrill, Jane Van Voorhis and Shirley Carter was named to make pennants.

Song Writers Here in Contest

Offered For Use In State Sesqui

At least a half dozen individuals in Fayette County entered The City Savings & Loan Co. contest to write a song about Ohio, Paul Van Voorhis, the manager of the company's office here, said after Merrill B. Van Pelt, supervisor of music in the Cincinnati school, had been proclaimed the winner.

For his song, Van Pelt was awarded the $2,500 first prize in the nationwide contest.

The song he wrote, entitled "Song of Ohio," is to be the theme song of a motion picture about Ohio now being made. It also is to be featured during the Ohio Sesquicentennial celebration next year.

Although Van Pelt is not a professional song writer or a member of ASCAP, his composition won out over entries by a number of prominent popular song writers from Hollywood, Los Angeles, Chicago, New York and Miami.

VAN VOORHIS SAID "unfortunately I did not keep a list of those who submitted songs here," but he declared "at least half a dozen submitted their songs to the City Loan & Savings Co. office." He said he sent them on to the company headquarters without keeping a record of the composers.

Van Voorhis expressed the belief that others here had sent in their song direct to the company's main office.

The contest was conceived by Sam Schoonover of the sponsoring company because Ohio is one of the few states not having an official state song.

Van Voorhis said the company plans to publish a simple song book which will include the top 10

CHRISTMAS BELLS

Christmas bells will soon be ringing;
Still they tell the wondrous news,
Of the birth of little Jesus—
He with Santa we confuse;
Jesus' birth was celebrated
By the Wisemen bearing gifts
And a star in Heaven led them;
Radiance still from Heaven drifts.
Santa too is like the Wisemen—
Bearing gifts to large and small;
And he leaves a Christmas greeting—
Peace, good will to one and all;
Neither one we can be seeing
But we love their message sweet;
Christ was sent to love and save us;
Santa's gifts lay at our feet.

or 12 songs submitted in the contest. If that is done, the song book is to be distributed free among Ohio schools.

Five runner-up prizes of $100 each were awarded in the contest to Rob Roy Peery, Dayton; Phil Boutelle, Los Angeles; Parker LaBach, Syracuse; Noah Ryder, Norfolk, and Ellen Jane Porter, Dayton.

Don't Leave Parcels In Unlocked Autos

"Don't leave packages of goods in your automobile parked on the street without locking it."

This is the request of Police Chief Vaiden Long, who points out that during the Christmas shopping season more valuable packages are left in autos than at any other time, and sneak thieves are more active than at any other time.

By locking car doors the packages are comparatively safe, Chief Long points out.

New Defense Spending Stint Said Possible

Ike May Be Forced Into Stretch-Off As He Assumes Office

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower may have another defense spending stretch-out to consider when he takes office and decides what to do about the Korean situation.

Defense spending is running behind the amount it was supposed to have reached by this time. It slumped late in the summer, with the steel strike getting the blame for the slowdown in armament deliveries.

Since then there has been evidence that military ordering policies have changed. Industrialists say that the military apparently have cutback on some of the original equipment schedules and are seeking later models.

For business, this latest stretch-out—defense program goals were lowered twice before—means that defense spending is likely to be a prop to the general economy longer than was thought a few months ago.

The government spending should continue at its present level, or a little higher, for many months to come.

This could put off until 1954 the time so many businessmen fear—the time when the flow of government dollars into defense and defense-supporting industries begins to ebb.

This spending has a lot to do with the high level of employment now. Defense buying of raw materials, and governmental stockpiling of strategic materials, also have a steady effect on commodity prices.

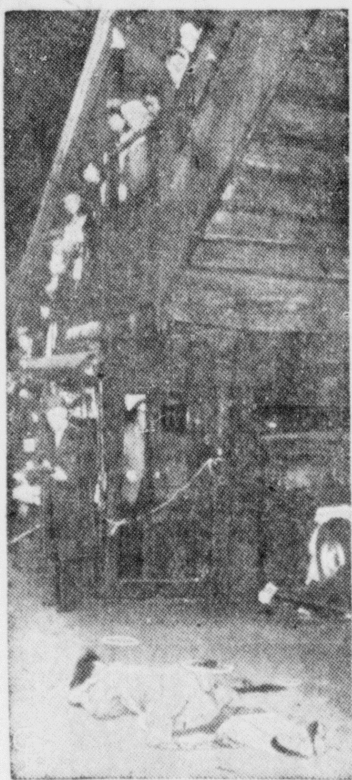

Some businessmen are wondering if the president-elect may decide to speedup the Korean war with an offensive. If so, defense spending may increase next year, and certainly would be stretched out through 1954.

There is also the matter of re-arming Europe—and the lag in that program, too—which seems likely to keep armament spending by this country high for a much longer time than at first foreseen.

One of the immediate effects of the current lag in defense spending here is likely to be a much smaller treasury deficit next June than had been forecast.

Last January President Truman thought there would be a 14 billion dollar deficit. But his predictions of the rate of defense spending proved too high, and by August the deficit prediction was cut back to around 10 billion dollars.

Pre-Primary Party Convention Asked

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Republican State Committee was asked Tuesday to recommend for legislative consideration a pre-primary convention for endorsing party candidates to state offices.

The proposal came from P. Lincoln Mitchell, Cincinnati. It would allow the convention to designate one of several candidates for state offices as the party choice. The Ohio House turned down a similar measure last year.

Another proposal to the state group was one for creating state legislative districts in metropolitan counties.

Ray C. Bliss, committee chairman, said the suggestions would be considered at the next committee meeting.

Hearings Set In Railroad Case

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The state utilities commission today set a public hearing for Jan. 5 on the Pennsylvania Railroad's application to discontinue two trains between Xenia, O., and Richmond, Ind.

The hearing was sought by the City of Springfield and the Springfield Chamber of Commerce. They are protesting discontinuance of the trains.

The trains involved at No. 100, which leaves Richmond at 4:25 a. m. and arrives at Xenia at 7:05 a. m., and No. 101, which leaves Xenia at 10:50 p. m. and arrives at Richmond at 11:30 p. m.

Colonel Lauded For Heroism In War Action

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—The colonel who became a hero in Korea because he couldn't call it quits was laid to rest at services here Thursday.

Lt. Col. William H. Isbell Jr. was killed while leading an infantry charge on Triangle Hill, one of the strategic blood-soaked mountains prized by the Allies and Communists in the Korea War.

A master sergeant who saw the 45-year-old officer lead the charge called it "the bravest thing I ever saw."

Col. Isbell, by virtue of his age and rank, was qualified for a safe post behind the line of action. But he happened to be on the scene when a company was dug in below the crest of the hill and all the senior officers were wounded.

Seventh Division headquarters in Korea has announced Col. Isbell has been recommended for the Medal of Honor.

He was a native of Texas and made his home at Gambrells, Md.

Dividing Voting Precincts Urged

COLUMBUS (AP)—County election boards can cut down long lines of voters on election day by splitting precincts into smaller units, says Mrs. Lillian A. Trueblood, head of the election division in the Secretary of State's Department.

Mrs. Trueblood said this practice would ease some of the difficulties of election boards. She spoke Tuesday before the Ohio Association of Election Officials.

3,500 Asking For British Memorial Book

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 3,500 relatives of the 28,000 Americans who lost their lives during World War II while based on Britain have written in for the Times of London Memorial Book honoring their sacrifice.

Letters and cards are arriving at the Times' office here at the rate of 800 a day following an appeal Nov. 20 by the Times' chairman, Col. J. J. Astor.

Col. Astor asked the United States press, radio and television to help him find the next-of-kin "of those who lived and died in Britain's midst in the second world war." He said it was impossible to trace them through Army, Navy or Air Force records.

Printed cards acknowledging the requests are sent out immediately. The books will not arrive from England until next month. Each next-of-kin will get a book with the dead American's name printed in gold on the front cover.

The book tells the story of the creation of an American Memorial Chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral to the 28,000, paid for by the pennies of some two million men, women and children in Britain.

Oppressive Fog Blamed For Deaths

LONDON (AP)—Four days of oppressive fog which blanketed London earlier this week was blamed today for speeding the deaths of at least 160 elderly persons in the city. The total may exceed 200.

Inquests were few as most of the victims had been under medical attention. The sickening blanket of dirt-laden mist that lifted Tuesday largely aggravated their conditions, hastening death. Almost all suffered from respiratory ailments or heart disease.

Bank's Beauties Now in Church

Other Parts Found
In Many Places

By M. E. BYRNE
(Central Press Association)
CLEVELAND HEIGHTS, O. —
The Rev. Fr. John Powers needed a haircut.

So it was that he dropped into a downtown Cleveland tonsorior parlor for a quick trim. With him was one of his young assistants.
As the comb-and-scissors artist was performing his duties the young priest chanced to remark that the First National Bank had some desks to sell, second-hand.

A desk being a much needed
item for the parish house, Father Powers suggested they visit the bank. As they stepped through the portals of the First National's imposing fortress of finance, Father Powers suddenly stopped, his eyes shining.

The banking room was truly imposing. Twelve magnificent pillars held aloft a great ceiling from which hung magnificent chandeliers. A huge clock in a sculptured stone setting dominated one wall.

"This," Father Powers breathed softly, "will be my church!" The young assistant blinked, wondering whether his ears weren't playing tricks.

THAT WAS 42 years ago. Today those giant pillars, those gleaming chandeliers, even the massive clock are among the architectural treasures which blend to form a jewel of a religious edifice—the new St.
Ann's Church of Cleveland Heights.

Father Powers had made good on his promise of so long ago.
In 1925 when the bank building was razed, the First National having merged with another bank, he acquired the pillars, the chandeliers, the clock as well as the finely wrought railing of the counting room. These he stored in the basement of the old St. Ann's Church.

When another bank building, that of the Central National, made way for a ten-cent store, the story was repeated. The sanctuary railing and sanctuary doors, as well as the marble for the altar stairs of the new St. Ann's came from this second bank.

From time to time, Father Powers added more treasures to his basement storehouse. The mansions of Cleveland's aristocracy, having outlived their time, fell before the sledges of progress and from them came such items as the imported oak paneling for the six confessionals in the new St. Ann's as well as the paneling for the sacristy.

The beautifully fashioned holy water fountains of the new St. Ann's are almost worth a story of their own for two generations ago they served as drinking fountains for some of Cleveland's elite.

CLEVELAND was not the only hunting ground for Father Powers as he pursued his long-range plan for the church of his dreams. He ranged far and wide for the items which would fit perfectly into his ideal of a church. From a Protestant church in Worcester, Mass., came St. Ann's fine old Steer organ and the new church's carillon bells.

A golden, diamond-studded mon-stance was the work of a Dublin, Ireland, goldsmith. Some of the sparkling jewels with which it is encrusted originally graced wedding rings! The golden tabernacle, a craftsman's master piece, is also a tribute to the Irish goldsmith's art.

Like the monstance and the tabernacle, the pews in St. Ann's are new, almost more than new—for they incorporate a device which is the invention of Father Powers, himself. When the parishioners are seated, the kneeling bench

MRS. JAMES A. VAN FLEET, wife of Unique as is St. Ann's among religious edifices so is Father Powers, its pastor, among them.

From the days of his youth, when he was a star pitcher for his high school and college baseball teams, the Rev. John Powers has been a leader. A man with an infinite capacity for work, he has had an intense interest in the civic and social welfare of his community.

HE HAS FOUGHT a myriad of successful campaigns for the public benefit, including such widely varied matters as better public transportation and Sunday baseball—this last because he firmly believed it was better for the men to get their Sunday afternoon recreation through attendance at a wholesome sports contest than fre-quenting the beer gardens and saloons of that era.

The success of a concert in 1918 for which the then rising young Russian maestro, Nikolai Sokoloff, was conductor and which had been arranged by Father Powers in an effort to raise funds for his parish, is credited with creating the impetus which brought into being the now world famous Cleveland symphony orchestra.

So well known is Father Powers and his works in Cleveland that when the anonymously-written popular novel, "Everybody Calls Me Father," was published recently, Clevelanders quickly guessed the identity of the book's "Father Tim" of "St. Rose's parish"—he couldn't be any other than Father Powers of St. Ann's.

Two Findlayites Killed In Crash

DEFIANCE —A Findlay woman and her 17-year-old stepdaughter were killed today when their auto skidded on Ohio 15, two miles south of Defiance, and crashed into a truck.

The state highway patrol identified the dead as Mrs. Oral Hartman, about 30, and Jane Louis
Hartman, 17, both of Findlay.

Farmers Told Ike's Policy Not Yet Set

SEATTLE — The nation's farmers have been told by President-elect Dwight Eisenhower he has not formulated a long-range policy on agricultural legislation, but they can be sure any help will not interfere with their freedom of action.

The assurance was given in a message Eisenhower sent to the American Farm Bureau Federation
president, Allan B. Kline. The federation is holding its annual convention here.

Eisenhower said he recognized that government must help farmers achieve a stabilized prosperity but he did not specify how he thought this might be done. He indicated a hope the matter could be decided by the time the present law supporting basic agricultural commodities through 1954 expires.

"I hope," he said, "that during the next two years the conditions affecting rural welfare will be thoroughly analyzed and that possible solutions will be discussed in meetings wherever rural people come together."

"The conclusions developed in such nation-wide discussions should in time be expressed to the appropriate committees of Congress and to the membership of the agricultural advisory commission which we are pledged to establish."

The Farm Bureau members are expected to adopt their recommendations regarding farm supports Thursday at closing sessions of the four-day meeting which is being attended by 5000 members.

The present law supports the price of major commodities at 90 per cent of parity.

West Germany Printers Strike

FRANKFURT — West Germany's 48 million people, already plagued with a printers' strike that has shut down more than two-thirds of the nation's newspapers, today faced the possibility that most of the remaining publications also would be forced to close.

The threat was posed early today by a breakdown in negotiations aimed at ending the strike by an overwhelming majority of the nation's 86,000 organized printers.
Union leaders refused to accept a compromise wage increase offered by the publishers. No date was set for resumption of talks.

Ohio Gangster, 6 Others Hurt In Gun Fight

NEW YORK — A 37-year-old Ohio gunman, deadly accurate with a small arsenal, fought a furious gun battle with police in Times Square streets early Wednesday.
He and six others fell wounded.

Police identified the gunman as Clarence O. Sims of Cleveland where police said he is wanted for armed robbery.

At least four patrolmen, three of whom were injured seriously, lined up in the battle. Sims reportedly fought alone, but he boasted to police that he had a gang here. Three unidentified men were picked up for questioning.

Dozens of passersby dodged for cover as bullets ricocheted off the pavement and walls; but three shots found their marks in hapless bystanders. However, none of them was seriously injured.

The gunman became embroiled with the police while they were stopping an argument between a Negro and a white man. He was reported to have on him a .45 caliber automatic and a .38 caliber foreign pistol plus 50 rounds of ammunition for the two weapons.

Police said Sims intervened as a patrolman tried to pacify two arguing men. The officer, Patrolman George McAuliffe backed Sims against a building wall. Sims pulled the .45 and fired three shots at McAuliffe. Each bullet found its mark. And then other officers joined the battle.

Patrolman Cornelius O'Shea fired one shot, striking Sims behind the ear. That ended the fight.

In Cleveland, Police Inspector James E. McArthur said Sims was a member of a seven-man gang which he described as "one of the most vicious robber gangs in Cleveland crime history."

Civil Service Problem Faces Ohio Assembly

30,000 State Aides
Affected By Present
Confusing Setup

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, O.—The 100th General Assembly convening Jan. 5 will inherit unsolved civil service problems affecting about 30,000 state employees. The last Legislature failed to cope with them.

The Ohio Program Commission, a state planning body, will urge a three-member state civil service commission and recommend other changes. Ohio now has two civil service commissioners.

The recommendations stemmed from a study by a committee looking into problems of state government for the program commission. Heading the committee was Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University and a former member of the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower recently named Flemming to a special committee to study the functioning of the executive branch of the federal government.

Flemming's committee took a dim view of Ohio's present civil service set up.

"A two-member civil service commission does not make it possible to fix responsibility for what takes place in the field of personnel administration in a definite and specific manner," the committee reported. "This situation needs to be corrected," it added.

The committee noted an earlier program commission study and an investigation by the last Legislature led to the same conclusion.

A bill to improve personnel administration passed the Senate in the last session but failed to get out of committee in the House of Representatives.

"This matter is of such vital importance to the efficiency of state government as to warrant further consideration by the General Assembly," Flemming's committee reported.

The committee proposed a three-member civil service commission appointed by the governor, subject to Senate confirmation. Members of the two-party commission would serve at the governor's pleasure and he would designate their chairman.

Present commission members are appointed by the governor to four-year terms. They are Carl W. Smith of Kenton and John Macklin of Groveport.

Another recommendation called for a commission executive director skilled in personnel administration and responsible to the commission chairman. Principal commission officers would report to the executive director.

The commission now has a secretary who serves in a somewhat similar capacity.

The committee also proposed authority for the commission to name full-time personnel directors in large state departments under qualifications outlined by the commission. The heads of smaller agencies would form a council of personnel administration to consider such problems in all state

Ike Expected To Shun Use Of Lush Yacht

ABOARD USS HELENA (P) — It looks as if President-elect Dwight Eisenhower's passion for golf, fresh-water fishing and frugality in government will leave no place for the ocean-going yacht, the Williamsburg, as a presidential retreat in the next four years.

The chances are, friends say, that Eisenhower will try to find a mountain retreat somewhere near Washington (one with a small golf course) as his hideaway from White House duties.

And they say his plans rule out the Williamsburg not only as being too expensive a luxury but one not suited to his ideas of recreation.

The ideal summer White House in Ike's book would be a mountain retreat at about 2,500 feet altitude, not too far from Washington. Good fishing water would be a must as would the golf course.

It would have to be close to the White House because Ike might want to sneak away on a Friday and not return until Sunday night. Some say he has thought that maybe former President Herbert Hoover's old retreat at Rapidan, Va., might fill the bill. He doesn't want anything fancy.

President Truman preferred Key West for his vacations and he liked to have the Williamsburg around for weekend cruises.

The Williamsburg has a crew of more than 100 and like all yachts it costs a lot to run. Nobody knows just how much, because in government bookkeeping it's a training ship for the Navy.

Prince Going To Coronation

TOKYO (P) — Crown Prince Akihito will travel by ship and plane for the first time when he goes to the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II in London next spring.

Court officials plan for the 18-year-old prince to go to Hawaii and San Francisco aboard the 23,000-ton transpacific liner President Wilson. From San Francisco he will fly to Vancouver, B. C., where he will remain a day or so. He will go via train across Canada to New York. On April 22 he will board the Queen Elizabeth, and arrive in Southampton April 27.

departments. The governor would name the council head.

The committee said the proposed council of personnel administration should consider "a more practicable method of employees who do not meet reasonable standards of performance."

Statute now permits appointing officials to fire employees for cause. Discharged workers can appeal to the commission.

Civil service status for the chief of the division of aid for the aged in the welfare department also was recommended. The committee noted that the division spends in excess of 70 million dollars annually and has about 1,100 employees in dealing directly with maintenance of the lives of more than 125,000 needy aged.

In 15 years of operation, the committee said the division has had seven changes in its top management. The division chief currently is exempt from civil service provisions.

Fashions, Perfumes Claimed Weapons In Fight For Peace

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Fashions and perfumes are weapons in the fight for peace, says Raymond Barbas, head of the House of Patou and president of the Chambre Syndicale de La Couture Parisienne, the French National Federation of the French Couture, as well as a chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

This springy Frenchman explains people who deal with fashion are true internationalists, and the best world ambassadors of good will.

If anything rips the Iron Curtain, Barbas says, it is likely to be the Russian woman's desire for capitalist fashions, rather than the atom bomb as a case in point, he says.

"Recently a friend of mine was a delegate to an International Economic Conference in Moscow. He took with him a batch of French fashion magazines which he left in his hotel. When he returned, the magazines had vanished. This, I think is telling proof that women are women the world over, and that interest in fashion is universal."

On his 63rd trip to New York recently, Barbas explained his strong feeling about the fundamental importance of fashion in world history. Says he:

"There will always be fashion. People in the business should never worry about the future, because fashion is part of the story of the world."

"We identify periods of history by the fashions of the day. Many persons may not know much about the history of ancient Rome, but practically everyone knows that Caesar wore a toga."

"We may not be intimately acquainted with historical events in France during the reign of Louis XIV, but we remember the fashions."

"When novelists starting writing about the future world of space travel, what do they describe first? The clothes people will wear, naturally. You can't visualize a new period of history without people, and you can't visualize people without fashions."

Army Shorts Slated To Be Armor-Laden

WASHINGTON (P) — The Army said today it is ordering armored shorts for its troops in Korea. Together with the armored vest the two garments will give protection to the entire torso.

The Army said the armored shorts resemble a prize fighter's trunks and weigh only four pounds. The vest weighs eight pounds.

Specifically designed to protect the hips, abdomen and groin, the garment has been tentatively designed as "armor, lower torso."

It is made of 12 layers of flexible, laminated nylon duck encased in a water-resistant plastic layer with an outer covering of nylon fabric.

The vest, made of the same materials, has been demonstrated in Korea to deflect about 65 per cent of all types of missiles and to reduce chest and upper abdominal wounds by about 60 per cent.

The Army said 1,000 of the new armored shorts will be ready for delivery to Korea in February.

New Israel Chief Sworn To Office

JERUSALEM (P) — Itzhak Ben-Zvi, who spent a lifetime working for the establishment of Israel as a national home for the Jews, took the oath of office today as the second president of his youthful state in a solemn ceremony.

The 68-year-old leader of the Israeli Labor Party was elected by the Knesset (parliament) on Monday to a five-year term succeeding the late Dr. Chaim Weizmann.

Dulles OK'd Hiss, Witness Claims

WASHINGTON (P) — Attorney John W. Davis testified today that John Foster Dulles first recommended Alger Hiss for head of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace and that all reports on him were good ones.

Davis, a Carnegie trustee who was the Democratic nominee for President in 1924, appeared before a House subcommittee investigating tax exempt foundations for possible evidence of subversive influence.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (P)—Just in case anyone has the impression Gen. MacArthur said he has a plan for ending the Korean War, the fact is, he didn't. At least he didn't in so many words.

What he said was: "I am confident there is a clear and definite solution to the Korean conflict... A present solution involves basic decision which I recognize as improper for public disclosure or discussion."

He didn't even say there that he himself has a solution. He said "there is" a solution. That he expressed himself as he did, instead of saying flatly he has a solution or plan, may be only a matter of literary composition.

But MacArthur is credited with real consciousness of the language and the fact that he used the phrases he did, and in the way he did, may have some significance for the future.

Since Gen. Eisenhower listened to Sen. Taft's recommendations for his Cabinet and then rejected them, it would seem he's willing to listen but determined to make up his own mind, no matter who likes it.

Eisenhower and MacArthur have now agreed to meet. The very language MacArthur used should save him from any feeling of loss of face if Eisenhower listens to him, as he did to Taft, and then goes his own way, anyway.

MacArthur talking with Eisenhower about some of his views on a solution—without claiming in so many words that he has the solution—is not quite the same as MacArthur apparently is not thinking of precisely the same remedy he offered in the spring of 1951.

Bombing Chinese bases in Manchuria; blockading the China coast; and using Chiang Kai-shek's Formosan troops on the Asia Mainland against China. It was that plan, or rather his outspoken espousal of it, that cost MacArthur his job in 1951 when President Truman relieved him of his command.

MacArthur indicated he was thinking of something different when he first mentioned the word "solution" in a speech last Friday night in New York before the National Association of Manufacturers.

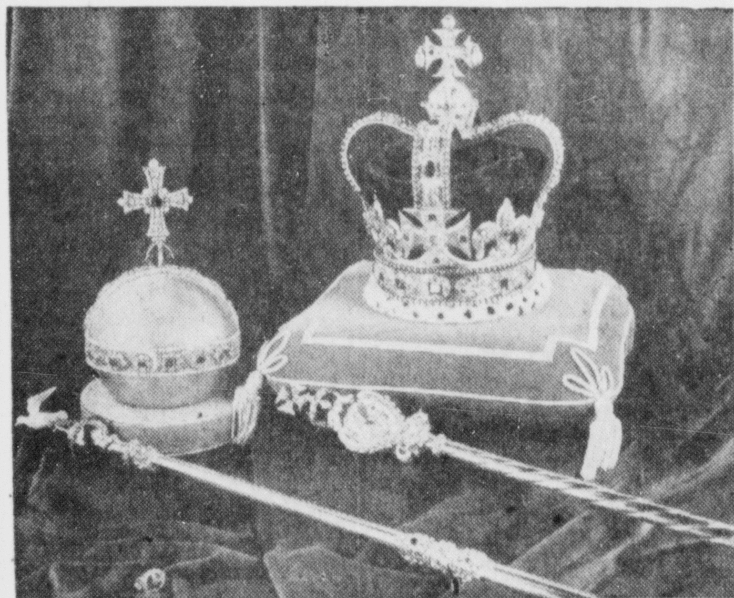

Whatever it is that MacArthur has in mind, if Eisenhower accepted it and it ended the war, MacArthur could feel he had ended his military career on a plane of vindication after his embarrassment in 1951.

Some scientists think Mt. Everest has grown as much as 200 feet in the last century.

ELIZABETH'S CORONATION CROWNS, ROYAL REGALIA

HERE ARE the principal historic royal crowns and regalia to be used for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II in London this coming June

THE ST. EDWARD'S CROWN, the orb, sceptre with cross and sceptre with dove, and sovereign's ring. The St. Edward's crown is known as the crown of England. Monarchs since time of Charles II have been crowned with it. Orb and sceptres are symbols of kingly or queenly dignity. Sceptre with cross, or royal sceptre, is placed in right hand of the sovereign at coronation, the archbishop of Canterbury saying, "Receive the royal sceptre, the ensign of kingly (or queenly) power and justice." The orb is handed to the sovereign to symbolize independent sovereignty under the cross. Sceptre with dove also was made for Charles II, signifies mercy. Ring is worn on right hand, fourth finger.

AMPULLA AND SPOON are used during coronation for anointing by the archbishop of Canterbury, one of the most important rites of the ceremony. The ampulla holds the oil, gold eagle's neck unscrews so oil can be poured in. It is poured out through beak, into the spoon, the oldest object in the coronation. Spoon dates from 12th or 13th century is believed to have been made for Henry III in 1216. (International)

Commercial Club Shows Yule Spirit

The Commercial Club of Washington C. H. High School is going to pass up the customary gift exchange this year. Instead, each of the 20 members of the club is to give a current magazine and a child's book to Memorial Hospital.

Members of the club decided on that when they held their business meeting at the school Wednesday Mary Huff, the club president, conducted the meeting.

Because of a conflict in dates and the number of holiday school activities, the club's next meeting was postponed from Dec. 18 to Jan. 12.

Alice Baughn was named chairman of the committee which was charged with seeing that the magazines and children's books are delivered to the hospital.

Okizu Camp Fire Girls Plan Christmas Party

The Okizu Camp Fire Girls group finished the Christmas gifts they have been making for their mothers and completed plans for their mother and daughter Christmas party in the basement of Eastside School when the regular meeting was held at the school.

Ann Waters, the president, conducted the business part of the meeting. Roll call was answered by 14 members. There also were two guests at the meeting.

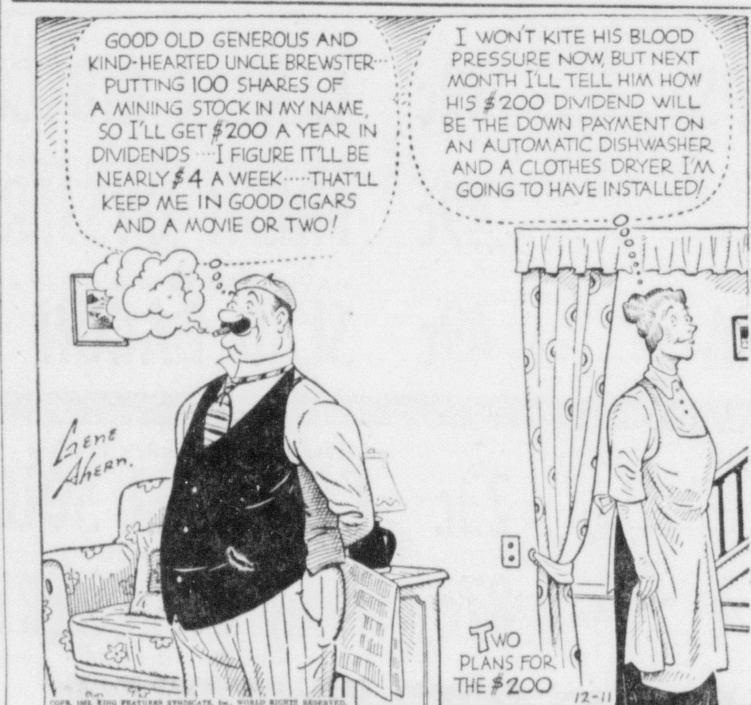

Janice and Helen Brown were hostesses for the day. Mrs. Kenneth Horney is the group leader.

Many Trees Are Still Available

County Agent Taking Orders For State

Farmers, industry, schools and others who plan reforestation projects next spring should place their orders for 1953 planting stock immediately if they expect to obtain Ohio nursery trees, O. A. Alderman, chief of the Division of Forestry of the Department of Natural Resources said today.

Already there has been more than four million seedlings ordered, almost half of the total 1953 production of Ohio's two state nurseries. From now on, Alderman said, the Division's policy would be on a basis of "first come-first served."

The charge for the trees is very small, and prices are available from W. W. Montgomery, county agricultural agent.

Orders for 1953 planting stock have been so heavy that already the supply of five choice classes has been exhausted. No longer available for 1953 planting, at least from state nurseries, are White Ash, Silver Maple, Sweetgum, Hemlock and 4-year White Pine transplants.

SPECIES OF HARDWOODS still available for order today include: Catalpa, Wild Black Cherry, Black Locust, Thornless Honey Locust, Red Maple, Sugar Maple, Black Oak, Chesnut Oak, Red Oak, Swamp White Oak, Osageorange, Sycamore, Tuliptree and Black Walnut. Most of these are one-year seedlings.

Species of conifers still available for order are: Jack Pine, 2-yr; Pitch Pine, 2-yr; Red Pine, 3-yr; Shortleaf Pine, 3-yr; White Pine, 3-yr seedlings and 3-yr transplants.

Farmers or others qualified to purchase stock from the Division of Forestry may obtain application and purchase order forms from Montgomery or by writing to the Division of Forestry, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus. Remittance for the purchase should not be made until the purchaser has been billed, and then it is recommended that it be made immediately to insure delivery. Last spring many orders were cancelled because remittance was not received in time.

After licorice is extracted from the roots of the licorice plants, the residue is used to make a fire-fighting foam and insulating board for builders.

Thug So Nervous Gun Falls Apart

BALTIMORE (P)—The would-be bandit who entered an East Baltimore grocery Tuesday night became so nervous and shook so violently that his revolver came apart in his hand, and the lone bullet fell to the floor.

Mrs. Fannie Beall, clerk in the grocery, told police the bandit got down on his hands and knees to retrieve his bullet. At this point, Mrs. Beall charged the man with a butcher knife and he fled—without the money, the bullet or parts of the gun.

Price of Food On Down Trend

Only Few Of Them
Make Slight Rise

By The Associated Press
Eggs, butter and frying chickens were a little lower priced in most retail food stores this week. So were oranges, tangerines and a long list of fresh vegetables.

Only a handful of foods were higher. Snap beans and carrots were up slightly in many places as supplies tightened, reflecting adverse growing weather several weeks ago. Emperor grapes, pears and lemons edged higher.

Fryers were down 2 to 4 cents a pound in widespread areas, being a popular item for special pricing to attract customers. Also in this category in many independent markets and chain stores were beef rib and round roasts, lamb shoulder roasts, pork loin chops and roasts, several cuts of veal including legs, chops and shoulder roasts, beef liver, smoked picnic hams and several varieties of fresh and frozen fish.

Eggs dropped 2 to as much as 8 cents a dozen and in many places were selling at the lowest levels since last June. The authoritative New York market reporting firm of Urner-Barry Co. said the decline reflected continued high egg production resulting from a generally mild fall.

Tangerine prices were trimmed sharply as shipments from Florida reached the big-volume stage. Good supplies of navel and other types of oranges for the holidays also were assured, and grapefruit was a produce special in many places.

Good buys in vegetables in most cities included beets, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, several kinds of greens, escarole and endive. All were a little lower this week, as were artichokes, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, onions, peppers and squash. Lettuce and tomatoes were offered in a wide range of quality, condition and price.

Service Casts 4 Millionth Line Of Type

Galvin Wire Service, which provides this and four other Ohio daily newspapers with state, national and world news, Wednesday afternoon activated its four millionth line of type.

GWS, which only Monday completed its first year of operation, utilizes the Teletypesetter principle of news transmission and services the Circleville Herald, Logan News, Van Wert Times-Bulletin, Washington C. H. Record-Herald and Wilmington News-Journal.

Each newspaper receives its news over leased telephone cables from an office in Circleville in the form of perforated paper tape which is run through line-casting machines where type is set automatically.

The aggregate of four million lines of type means:

1. A possible stack of type eight miles high.
2. A silver metal ribbon 124 miles long if each piece of type were laid end-to-end.
3. A mass of metal weighing about 280,000 pounds.
4. Reading matter which would take the average person about four solid months of eight-hour days to glean completely through.
5. Paper tape used in the process, if reeled out in one strip, extending from Columbus to Washington D. C.

Extra Postal Aides Hired For Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department said today it plans to maintain its Christmas mail delivery standards this year despite continuing deficits in operating funds.

In large and small offices throughout the country, postmasters already are hiring the first of an estimated 375,000 "extras." They will be taken on temporarily to assist the regular force of 500,000.

As in the past two years, Postmaster General Donaldson has instructed the force to disregard, for the Christmas season, the one-day delivery system he made effective in 1950, along with other service cuts.

Deliveries, says Donaldson, will be made as often as necessary to keep the mail moving. Multiple deliveries will begin in most areas around Dec. 15.

83,000 Books Moved By Hand

DE KALB, Ill. (AP) — Eighty-three thousand books were being moved here today the hard way—armful by armful.

A task force of more than 1,500 students and members of the faculty of Northern Illinois Teachers College volunteered to tote the volumes from the old library to a new one, 100 feet away. The new Swen Franklin Parson Library was completed recently at a cost of $2 million. But there was no money to pay for the transfer of the books. So the students offered to handle the job.

Fayette County Women's Chorus Takes Recess

HERE IS A TYPICAL REHEARSAL of the Fayette County Women's Chorus. There are about 50 in the chorus, but all of them do not always come to the practices. However, there are always enough there to make a sizeable chorus.

In the front row (left to right) are Mrs. Leo Miller, Mrs. Gladys Frederick, Mrs. Gene Thompson, Mrs. Nona McConaughy, Mrs. Dwight King, Mrs. W. A. Creamer, Mrs. Calvin Johnson, Miss Louise Ritter and Mrs. John Weade. In the second row (starting about half way across) Mrs. Arthur Barton, Mrs. Bruce King, Mrs. Jess Crago, Mrs. H. W. Melvin, Mrs. Lavern Morgan, Mrs. J. N. Allemang, Mrs. Olive McIntosh, Mrs. Virgil P. Garringer and Mrs. Harold Bonecutter. In the third row are Mrs. Olive Woodyard, Mrs. Floy Ferguson, Mrs. Charles Garringer, Mrs. Frank Lanum, Mrs. John Sheley, Mrs. Homer Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Minton, Mrs. Zoe Garringer, Mrs. S. P. Nau and Mrs. Ralph Hays.

The Fayette County Women's Chorus of about 50 members is now taking a Christmas holiday from its twice-a-month rehearsals, but they will start getting together again regularly Jan. 20.

The chorus is a part of the Extension Service's program here and fits in with the home demonstration work carried on under the guidance of Mrs. Olive Woodyard, the home demonstration agent for the county.

Although there are about 50 in the chorus, not all of them show up for every rehearsal. However, usually 25 to 30 are there, and among them are enough "regulars" to carry the tunes.

Mrs. George Pensyl is the director and Mrs. Ralph Yerian is the accompanist.

Rehearsals are held in the Farm Bureau building auditorium. They not only serve to smooth out the chorus work, but also as a social get-together for the women separated by broad fields of farm land, for virtually all of them live in the country.

This is the second year for the chorus and Mrs. Woodyard expressed the belief that, with the start made last year, it is developing more rapidly now.

The first appearance of the chorus this year was at the Christmas at Home Open House held jointly by the 18 home demonstration clubs and 10 garden clubs of the county a week ago.

The next public appearance will be at the Achievement Day program which is to be held in March by the home demonstration clubs.

It also is making plans for a possible appearance during the state plowing matches to be held here next August. Details are yet to be worked out.

The chorus has offered its cooperation, too, in the Sesquicentennial celebration here next year, but just how and when has been left to the general county Sesqui committee.

Doctor Says Men Need To Don Girdles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Men, too, are going to be doing the Charles-ton getting into their girdles, says Dr. Burgess Gordon, president of the Women's Medical College, Philadelphia.

Men need girdles and will feel better and be better able to remain in the race with women in politics, industry and medicine, Dr. Gordon told interviewers yesterday.

Some of women's success is due to their girdles, he said, because they get support that elevates the abdomen and facilitates the movement of air in and out of the lungs, thus contributing to the entrance of oxygen into the tissues.

An Historian's Estimate As To Russia and War

Declares Soviets Seek To Gain Ends By Avoiding War

An English historian, Edward Crankshaw, says a careful study of bolshevik writings and speeches shows Russia is the world's most aggressive power, and will continue to be, but that does not mean the Russians plan a big war. The whole Kremlin policy since World War II suggests to Crankshaw that Russia will do everything possible to avoid a big war, says a news story.

Sideshow wars like Korea will continue, because they cost Russia little, but Moscow believes it will gain its world revolution goal short of war, he says.

"One of the hardest things in the world is to define just what Stalin and his friends believe," says Crankshaw. "But it is clear enough that they believe implicitly in the breakdown of what they call the capitalist system beneath the strains of its own internal stresses and contradictions. They believe the Moscow system of Communism will take over the ruins of the vanished order."

It seems to Crankshaw that the Kremlin will not launch an open war against the West until it is certain of winning. "That day is not yet," he says, "and provided we accept the burden of armament as individual citizens accept the burden of insurance premiums, it need never happen at all."

Man-Now-Girl Is Awarded Movie Pact

HOLLYWOOD (P)—Film producer Al Rosen says he has signed up Christina Jorgenson, the girl who underwent sex conversion from man to woman in Copenhagen.

Rosen said last night the 26-year-old girl, who served in the American Army as a man, would star in a new version of the comedy "Mary Had a Little," and make stage appearances with the picture.

Rosen claims that Miss Jorgenson, as a man, tried to crash Hollywood three years ago but did not succeed. He said he expects her to come to Hollywood next month.

Miss Jorgenson has undergone operations and treatments and is still under medical care in Copenhagen.

Britain Plans Protest To U. S.

LONDON (P)—An official source said today that Britain will protest to the United States against plans to screen foreign seamen before they go ashore in American ports. New immigration regulations requiring a foreign seaman to undergo questioning before he steps off his ship in a U. S. port is slated to go into effect Dec. 24.

Chicago Cop's Wife Named Cook-Of-Year

NEW YORK (P)—Mrs. Peter S. Harlib, the young blonde wife of a Chicago policeman, has won $25,000 and the title of cook-of-the-year, 1952, for a "snappy turtle cookie" with a chocolate shell.

Mrs. Richard Nixon, wife of the vice-president-elect, handed out the national annual homemaking awards Tuesday at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. The contest is sponsored by the Pillsbury Flour Co.

Mrs. Harlib got the idea for the cookie from one of her twin ten-year-old sons who rolled her cookie dough onto turtle legs improvised of pecans when she was talking on the phone one day.

Second prize of $7,500 and a food freezer went to a new version of an old favorite—lemon pie—baked by Mrs. Charles M. Reppert of Port Washington, N. Y. Mrs. Reppert put a cinnamon-egg white sugar crust on top of a lemon filling laced with paper-thin slices of lemon, upsetting the traditional lemon pie method.

Mrs. Stephen A. Hornung of New York received $2,500 and an automatic clotheswasher for her "baked-on" frosting cake.

City's Santa Claus Permit Held Illegal

TOLEDO (P)—Municipal Judge Frank W. Wiley has declared unconstitutional a city ordinance under which five Santa Claus solicitors for the Volunteers of America were arrested Friday.

Judge Wiley said the legislation requiring the solicitors' sponsor to obtain a city permit was in violation of the U. S. Constitution and "particularly offensive."

The ordinance left it to the discretion of the city safety director as to whether a solicitation permit should be granted and provided that such a permit did not duplicate other permits or interfere "or hinder or present the activity" of any interest to which a permit already had been granted.

Freed by the verdict were John Burden, 44, Wilmington, O.; James Murray, 47, Chicago; Earl Zwerger, 60, Omaha; John Fulton Cleveland, and Harold Engler, 37, Napoleon, O.

Last of Old Sailing Ships Back At San Francisco Bay Anchorage

By DON BALDWIN
SAN FRANCISCO—The three masted Pacific Queen, last of the famed square riggers, has come back to her old anchorage in San Francisco Bay—a bit tattered and bedraggled, but still regal in every line.

The 253-foot onetime queen of the Pacific, her towering masts bare of sails, was towed here from Long Beach, Calif., for a badly-needed coat of paint and new rigging.

The ship's late owner Frank Kissinger claimed the Queen as the "last of the sailing ships." Just before he died on board of a heart attack on Nov. 22, he told this reporter:

"There are brigantines, barks and schooners, but technically they're not ships because they're not fully square rigged."

The aging and weather-beaten Pacific Queen once was the pride of the fleet of white-sailed deep-water ships sailing from San Francisco.

Now her sleek steel hull is streaked with rust, her frayed rigging sags and her tapering masts and spars cry for a coat of varnish. But the Queen is still seaworthy and Kissinger, at 52, was ready to sail her anywhere if he could find enough old time sailors.

"THERE'S JUST not enough of the old sailing men left," he opined. However, his widow, Rose, says she will keep the ship.

The Queen's last voyage under sail was a 67-day round trip to Honolulu in 1936—a 10-day voyage for modern liners.

Several years later Capt. Kissinger wanted to sail her to South America on a good will tour, but by then he couldn't round up a crew.

The 1,862 ton Pacific Queen was built in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1886 and christened the Balcutha. She measures 253.5 feet from bow to stern, 43.2 feet abeam and 22.7 feet deep.

For 13 years she carried spice and jute from India, wheat from Australia and the U.S. and nitrates from South America back to England.

From 1894 until her sale in San Francisco five years later she operated out of Nova Scotia, touching at Cardiff and Iquique, Montevideo and Calcutta.

JUST BEFORE the turn of the century the Queen was sold to an American line and for several years out of San Francisco, carrying lumber from the Pacific Northwest to Australia.

In 1908 the Alaska Packers Association added the Queen to its fleet of square riggers and schooners. A year later, sailing as the Star of Alaska, she cracked up on Geese Island, off the Alaskan coast. But within 12 months she was fully repaired and back in service.

From 1906 until 1930 the big square rigger sailed northward from San Francisco each spring with upwards of 300 fishermen and cannery hands aboard. She returned when the fishing season ended in the fall.

The Queen was the last of the sailing ships on the Alaska run to be replaced by steam, but in 1930 she was laid up in San Francisco. She couldn't complete profitably with fast freighters.

Three years later Capt. Kissinger bought the rusting vessel for a mere $5,000 and re-christened her the Pacific Queen.

A NATIVE OF Los Angeles, Kissinger had worked in circuses, carnivals and industrial shows all over the country. He installed a $10,000 aquarium between decks and a 32-pipe calliope, "the largest ever to go to sea," and headed for southern California.

Ten days later when he docked at San Pedro all of the fish in his aquarium were dead, the mate was drunk and his young crew mighty discouraged.

Nonetheless, Kissinger made the Queen pay her own way, except during World War II when she lay on the mud flats of San Francisco Bay near Sausalito.

She has sailed in more than 40 motion pictures and was the Bounty in "Mutiny on the Bounty."

Capt. and Mrs. Kissinger installed a wax museum of pirates on the lower deck and exhibited her for several years in Long Beach as a "Pirate Ship."

"That's the only way we could make a go of her," Kissinger explained ruefully. "We refused to junk her. She's the last of the sailing ships."

Turnpike Bids To Be Taken On Jan. 3

COLUMBUS, O. —The Ohio Turnpike Commission says it will take bids Jan. 3 for concrete construction on sections of the 241-mile Northern Ohio toll road to make the commission consider asphalt bids.

The commission reaffirmed Tuesday night its decision to pave the superhighway with concrete.

Richard Shafer of the Ohio Road Improvement Co. is seeking a court order to make the commission take bids on both types of paving.

The commission withdrew advertisements to build the first 5.2 miles of the road after Shafer filed his legal action in the court of appeals.

But John Lansdale of Cleveland, one of the commission's legal advisers, said the group could go ahead with its plans. J. E. Greiner Co., of Baltimore, the turnpike's consulting engineer, recommended concrete.

The commission again approved its engineer's report for a 10-inch reinforced concrete paving on a six-inch selected sub-base.

Lansdale called untrue Shafer's claims that the use of concrete

Commissioners said they hoped to have the first 22 miles in eastern Ohio completed late next year.

Accent Said Key To British Army Success

LONDON (AP)—A Laborite member of Parliament says that British Army officers are selected for their accents and not for their competence.

The charge was made in the House of Commons yesterday by George Wigg, a onetime regular Army private who rose to the rank of colonel. He quoted an Army statement to the effect that 80 per cent of draftees granted commissions live south of a line drawn across the country through the Midlands industrial center of Birmingham.

British accents vary according to geographical locations. Wigg, himself, is from Dudley—a mile or two north of the Birmingham line.

War Minister Antony Head agreed that most of the commissions were granted men from south of the Birmingham line. This is "a fact that has been known for years," he declared but gave no explanation.

Americans Are Growing Older

One Out Of Every 10 Now 65 or More

Americans are growing older. The U. S. Census Bureau estimates one person out of every 10 is 65 years old or older. Fifty years ago the ratio was one in 25, according to a Washington report.

Among reasons for the lengthening of life of the American people are lower mortality rate resulting from improved medical care and higher standard of living. Incredible as it may seem, average American life expectancy has increased 25 years in the last half century, or a half year with each passing New Year's.

It is natural that so tremendous a development should result in a complete reweaving of the fabric of national life. In all major spheres of endeavor—social, political and economic—great stirrings are under way to accommodate the aging population. Foremost are social security and private pension plans.

Movements are under way to get business firms and public institutions to be more considerate of their employees as they reach retirement age, keeping them on the payroll if their efficiency is little impaired. Resort areas have blossomed, custom-tailored for the elderly.

Yet much remains undone. Society as a whole has not fully accepted the elderly as full partners in the business of life. Until this happens, a great deal of wisdom, distilled from years of experience, will be wasted.

Red POW Killed On Kojima Island

TOKYO (AP)—One Communist prisoner of war was killed and another wounded Monday on Kojima Island as they were attempting to organize a meeting.

The UN Command said the two were shot by guards in adjacent compounds as they were plotting the secret meeting. In both cases the prisoners refused to obey orders to return to their barracks.

Many tobacco products have nicotine in them, but chewing tobacco has the most.

Neighbors are supplying food.

The "back door" is unguarded.

THE HOUSE in which Mr. and Mrs. Max Tendrich have lived in the Bronx, New York, for 14 years has been condemned as a fire hazard, but they refuse to move. Police barred the front door and posted a policeman there. Mrs. Tendrich and their grandson, Mark Bull, 15 months, watch Tendrich hoist up a dinner pail filled by neighbors. Tendrich shows how he gets in and out in lower photo. (International)

Religion Is Not Sissified, Claim

DENVER (AP)—Religion is not a sissified job, says Dick Van Voorhis of Mansfield, O.

He told members of the United Church Men, a part of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., that men as well as women must contribute to church work. "It's a man's job, too," the Evangelical Reformed layman said.

Unique Type Offense May Face Lion Cagers Here on Friday Night

Although the WHS Lion Varsity cagers connected with 46 percent of their shots from the field and 56 percent of their free throws, Coach Harry Townsend said he would keep them practicing their shooting in the two practice sessions they will have before meeting the Hurricane from Wilmington here Friday night.

And the entire squad is going at its work with a will and lots of enthusiasm, spurred by a burning desire to run their win streak to five without a defeat.

They started out with 1-point victories over New Holland and Grandview, then trounced Bexley, 58 to 44, and Tuesday night whipped the favored Buccaneers from Xenia

Wisconsin Set To Prep For Rose Battle

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A 20-year-old youth who jumped from fifth string to varsity quarterback in less than a month is the key man in the offense Wisconsin will throw at Southern California in the Rose Bowl football game Jan. 1.

Three weeks before Wisconsin opened its season last September the name of James Haluska, Racine sophomore, wasn't even on a list of candidates handed out by the publicity office.

But the week of the opener against Marquette, Coach Ivy Williamson announced unexpectedly that Haluska was his choice for the pilot's post—and the slim, quiet youngster proceeded to nail down the job at once.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Coach Jess Hill assembles the University of Southern California football squad today to begin serious training for the Rose Bowl game.

Hill said he expected about 70 players of assorted size and ability, most of whom will be used as cannon fodder for the varsity platoons.

It was disclosed Bob Buckley, erstwhile No. 1 right halfback on offense, will definitely miss the game, Buckley broke a collar bone in the 1952 opener against Washington State.

Women Bowlers Form Teams Again

Team bowling was in order again for the second time when the non-league women bowlers gathered for their weekly Wednesday morning's sport at Bowland.

The 16 who were out for the session were divided into four teams for competition but they still stuck to their old plan of passing out individual honors.

Mrs. Byers Shaw and Mrs. Paul Pennington tied for the high three-game series without handicap with 384. Mrs. H. F. Schlue was second with 371 and Mrs. Clare Louise Boren third with 361.

Mrs. Pennington had 151 for the high single game without handicap. Mrs. Boren and Mrs. Shaw tied for second with 138.

Four came up with 192 for the best single game with handicap. They were Mrs. Dick Davis, Mrs. Andrew Loudner, Mrs. Robert Dempsey and Mrs. Joseph Herbert.

The most spectacular shot of the day—probably the most spectacular of the season—was made by Mrs. Loudner when she turned in a spare by getting a 5-7-10 split. This split has been made only twice before in five years at Bowland.

758 Yearlings Face Deadline For '54 Jug

List Includes 30 Which Cost $10,000 Or More At Sales

DELAWARE—Monday, Dec. 15, is an important date on the calendars of the owners of 758 standard-bred yearlings. That's the deadline for making sustaining payments on the 1954 Little Brown Jug, world's richest pacing race staged annually during the Delaware County Fair Grand Circuit.

The 1954 Jug is expected to be worth in the neighborhood of $65,000. In order to keep their prospects in the Delaware Classic, owners must pay $100 on each eligible.

Included in the list of 758 eligibles are 30 youngsters that brought $10,000 apiece or more at the recent yearling sales at Lexington, Ky. and Harrisburg, Pa.

Most expensive of the '54 Jug hopefuls is the trotting bred Smash-away, owned by the Saunders Mills Stable of Toledo. He was knocked down at Lexington for $46,000. And since many standard-bred juveniles, though trotting bred, adapt themselves to the pacing gait it's doubtful that Smash-away will be allowed to fall from the list of Jug eligibles.

OF THE 30 high-priced colts, four brought $30,000 or more; seven additional $20,000 or more, with eight more going for $15,000 to $19,000.

The list of 1954 hopefuls includes Meadow Gold, a $30,000 halfbrother to Meadow Rice, winner of the 1952 Jug. This one went to W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, owner of Meadow Rice, from the consignment of his trainer-driver, Del Miller. Miller won the 1950 Jug with Dudley Hanover and trained the 1951 and '52 winners.

Miller also sent a $25,000 package through the sale in Meadow Pace, half-brother to Tar Heel, winner of the 1951 Delaware pacing title in world's record times of 2:01 and 2:00. Meadow Pace went to potato man Sol Camp of Shafter, Calif.

Another of the hopefuls with breeding familiar to Jug fans is Tide's In, the yearling son of Goose Bay and Miss Princess Laurel. Goose Bay won second money in the 1947 Jug while Miss Princess Laurel is the dam of Thunderclap, first of last year's crop of two-minute three-year-old pacers and a money winner in the Jug.

Miss Victory Over Tarps Is Top Upset

NEW YORK (AP)—It took a heck of an upset to jolt the nation's football experts during the past season; there were so many of them. But they really got one Nov. 15 when Mississippi beat Maryland, 21-14.

Going into that afternoon the Maryland team, victorious in seven straight games, was rolling along in high. It was ranked third in the Associated Press poll, and a good many experts placed the Terrapins even higher.

But when the final score was posted, Maryland had lost its first game since Oct. 4, 1950, and Mississippi received a lucrative invitation to play Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl.

As another result, 64 out of about 150 sportswriters and broadcasters from every section of America returned questionnaires to the Associated Press listing Mississippi over Maryland as the greatest upset of the 1952 football season.

Two other games drew special attention. Second, with 37 votes, was Iowa's 8-0 victory over Ohio State, of which Sec Taylor, veteran of Des Moines, Ia., expert, said: "It was like my 8-year-old granddaughter outboxing Sugar Ray Robinson."

Third, with 34 votes, was Notre Dame's 27-21 triumph over Oklahoma.

Homeless Dagsworthy Lola Finally Gets Stall In Ohio

DELAWARE (AP)—Dagsworthy Lola, the homeless mare of Yonkers Raceway, was back in Delaware today munching oats in her owner's barn after an experience that shouldn't happen to a dog, let alone a harness horse.

Seems that when Yonkers closed for the season Nov. 15 and the horses were shipped off to winter quarters or other destinations, Dagsworthy Lola was left behind quite by accident.

William Tinckler, resident caretaker, was making the rounds of the deserted barn area one day, and lo and behold, here was a horse just begging to be found.

Tinckler's 12-year-old son Jack fed and watered the mare, but nobody knew who she was, or her owner.

Yonkers called in the Pinkerton horse identification bureau, and experts went to work checking the "night eye" or "chestnut" markings on the legs against records of all horses racing here, they finally identified the horse.

Truman L. Campbell of Dagsboro, Del., had sent the horse to trainer Del MacTavish with instructions that he take her to Canada for training this winter.

Dagsworthy Lola had been converted from trotter to pacer this year and MacTavish didn't consider her satisfactory.

He arranged with a trucker to ship the horse back to Delaware and left for Canada.

But something went wrong. The trucker didn't pick up the horse. Campbell thought his mare was in Canada, MacTavish thought she was in Delaware.

Miami Open Golf Test Underway

MIAMI (AP)—The wide open scramble for the $10,000 Miami Open golf championship begins today over the 7,010-yard Miami Springs Golf course with 145 pros and 21 amateurs competing.

With defending champion Sam Snead in California making a motion picture, together with national open champion Julius Boros, there is no outstanding favorite. The big field includes golfers from 39 states and from Hawaii, Ecuador, Canada, England and Venezuela.

Firing Opens In National Bowling Test

CHICAGO (AP)—Thirty-two of the nation's top men and women bowlers started firing today for the National All-Star individual championship.

Junie McMahon of Chicago and Fairlawn, N. J., is seeking his third title and his second straight in the round robin matches which continue until Sunday night. The men will roll 16 games daily compared to eight for the women.

Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., winner in the three previous all-star matches for women, is defending her 1951 crown against 15 top-ranking women.

Both champions lost their special matches in which they competed while 160 men and 48 women batted through preliminary rounds. Fourteen placed in the finals after Wednesday's semi-finals, the men completing 36 games and the women 24.

Dick Hoover, Akron, O., 1950 champion, beat McMahon in the 36-game special event 7,156 to 7,098. Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia, runnerup in last year's women tourney, whipped Mrs. Ladewig by 32 pins, 4,637 to 4,605 in their 24 games.

Frankie Albert To Quit Football

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Frankie Albert, who rose from a benchwarming substitute in 1939 to All-America quarterback for Stanford in 1940 and has stayed a T-formation wizard ever since, closes out his spectacular career Sunday.

The master of the bootleg play announced his appearance with the San Francisco 49ers here against the Green Bay Packers in the windup of the National League season will be his last. He says he is getting too old for the game. He is 32.

Davey Collects Easy Victory

CLEVELAND (AP)—Chuck Davey, who fights like a champion and talks like the teacher he used to be, pronounced himself fit and ready today for his welterweight title bout.

The Michigan State graduate went through a mild preparatory workout Wednesday night in scoring a third round technical knockout over hopelessly outclassed Fitzie Pruden of Paterson, N. J.

Davey, who holds a master's degree from Michigan State and is on leave of absence from the college's English department, is tentatively set for a February title bout against welterweight champion Kid Gavilan in Chicago.

3 Spartans Due In Shrine Game

MIAMI (AP)—Michigan State will send three players to the Mahi Shrine All-Star charity football game in Orange Bowl here Christmas night.

Cudahy Plant Employees Hold Christmas Party

Country Club Scene Of Appearance Of Double Santa Claps

It was a big event, and a happy one, when the employees of the Cudahy Packing Company here held their annual Christmas party at the Country Club Wednesday evening.

An appetizing turkey dinner was followed by a brief talk expressing the good will of the occasion, by O. W. Landrum, plant manager here. Following this, R. L. Seblom, office manager, took over as master of ceremonies and kept things rolling in the happy, rollicking Yuletide spirit.

To enjoy the entire program 100 people were in attendance and the gaiety of the occasion was kept at high tide during the entire evening. Husbands and wives of employees were present to share in the pleasures.

A novelty was introduced with the advent of a double Santa Claus, two individuals, who entered the picture and divided the men and women into separate circles. The vast array of exchange gifts between employees then became "operation Christmas" with the circle of men on one side the circle of women on the other being handed the packages to be passed to the individual on the right, accompanied by lively Christmas music. When the music stopped every person in each circle held a package and that one was retained. The opening of the packages brought enthusiastic expressions of delight and amusement.

"The Vets" a group of colored singers, including a quartet and a narrator, which has won much commendation in previous public appearances in this community, was present to sing several selections and to add to the pleasure of the program.

There was other music, singing of Christmas carols, dancing and games to enliven the evening, which was pronounced by those present as being one of the most delightful events of its kind ever held.

Wandering Puppies

wanted to keep. Its brother was to go to the Martindales when it grew a little older.

To the Martindale home, then went Merritt and this time he caught up with the woolly little vagabonds.

The Landrums and the Martindales admitted it was hard to give them up, but they said they were glad they had been able to keep them well fed and happy for the Merritts.

Now they are back at the Merritt home—and almost under lock and key. Merritt said he was anxious to keep them both, because he was without a dog since the mother, a collie, and father, a shepherd, of the puppies had been sent to other homes.

He said the puppies were "just like their mother," who had a habit of running away for days at a time, too; that was the reason, he said, he found another home for her.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz were spending most of their time answering the telephone. "They nearly rang it off the wall," Mrs. Schwartz said laughing and sighing with relief as the calls began to taper off after three days.

It seemed like everyone wanted one or both of them, she explained. Some people gave her some pretty stiff arguments, she added, when she told them the puppies were no longer at her home. That was before she knew who they belonged to or that the Merritts had found them.

But now everybody's happy, thanks to a picture that made page one of the Record-Herald.

Y-teen Dance Plans Made

Plans for completing the arrangements for the annual Y-Teen dance were made at the Wednesday meeting of the Senior Y-Teen Club of Washington C. H. High School in the Little Theater of the high school. The dance will be held Dec. 20 in the high school gymnasium.

The committees for the many phases of the dance gave the reports on the plans that had been made.

The price per couple for the dance was set. It is to be paid when the girls register in the dean's office.

It was announced that all the girls who are attending the dance must register before Dec. 17 in the dean's office. The members volunteered to help the dean of girls, Miss Marjorie Evans, with the registration. Miss Evans also is the club's advisor.

Patti Hurt led the devotions at the last meeting which was opened by the president, Shirley Vincent. A committee was appointed to send baskets of food, clothing and toys to several needy families in the county. The members are to contribute the material to make up a basket.

Truman Rap Ike, Mac

3. That MacArthur was sure the war was over.

Truman fired MacArthur April 11, 1951.

MacArthur gave no details of any Korean peace plan in his New York speech Friday. He did say it would not lead to unduly heavy Allied casualties.

The news conference opened with a question asking the President's reaction to a suggestion by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) that he invite Eisenhower and MacArthur to a conference on Korean strategy.

The President said he could not see that any good purpose would be served by such a conference, but he said either man would be welcome if he had something he wanted to discuss.

Then, referring to a statement Eisenhower made after completing his visit to Korea last week that he had no panacea or trick solution to ending the Korean war, Truman said that was a quotation from one of his own (Truman's) campaign speeches.

HE SAID HE thought Eisenhower's quoting of him was unintentional.

Asked about a report that the attorney general of Massachusetts had said Truman was urged to say during the recent campaign that he himself would go to Korea, the President said such a step was suggested.

But, he said, he rejected the suggestion deciding it would serve no good purpose and it would be just a piece of demagoguery.

And he added, with a touch of acid in his voice, that is just what it turned out to be.

Attorney General Francis E. Kelly of Massachusetts told the National Association of Attorneys

$2,950 Damages Asked in Suit

"Chick And Bill's Drive In" Involved

Chester Bryan, city has been made defendant in a $2,950 damage action filed by Deloracy Carson and Thomas Carson. The action, filed in common pleas court, is the sequel to purchase of the "Chick and Bill's Drive In" business.

The plaintiffs, who are represented by Harvey Crow of Urbana, state that on Oct. 14, 1952, they entered into a contract with the defendant for certain stock and the good will of "Chick and Bill's Drive In," and the defendant agreed to transfer his permit from the liquor control department to the plaintiffs. The permit was never transferred and the plaintiffs demanded the $1,000 paid for the permit, but the defendant held the permit, they contend.

Judgment for $1,000 is asked in the first cause of action.

The plaintiffs did work and made repairs on the place amounting to $450 after taking over the place of business, the suit states. Judgment for this amount is asked.

In the third cause of action it is claimed the defendant attempted to transfer his license in violation of the rules of the liquor control department.

It is further claimed the defendant had no "good will" to sell, and that he had made a supplemental agreement with the defendants for them to transfer back to him the liquor department permit, when their lease of the place expired. Fraud against the liquor control department and the plaintiffs is charged.

It is further charged by the plaintiffs that Bryant grossly exaggerated the amount of business done at the place when he told them it netted $200 per week.

False representations to deceive the plaintiffs is alleged in the petition, and it is further stated that the plaintiffs ceased to operate the place and that their damage for false representation of business has been $1,500, for which they also ask judgment. Interest is asked on the various amounts claimed.

General in Sea Island, Ga., earlier this week that Truman had rejected a Korean trip proposal during the campaign.

Reporters pressed Truman as to whether he considered Eisenhower's trip announcement a piece of demagoguery.

The President said the announcement was a piece of demagoguery—and of course Eisenhower had to make the trip after saying he would.

At that point, Roger Tubby, acting presidential press secretary, got up to talk briefly with Truman. Truman then turned back to the reporters and said Tubby had suggested some good may come out of the Eisenhower trip.

If it does, Truman said, he will be the happiest man in the world.
